

Service Name	Category	Eligibility	Organization	Phone	Address	Service Description
Betty's House Program	Emergency Shelter; Housing	Immigrants; Survivors of Intimate Partner Violence; Homeless	National Center for Children and Families	(301) 365-4480, (301) 365-4480, (301) 365-4480	6301 Greentree Road, Bethesda, MD 20817, US	The Betty's House Program provides transitional supportive housing for homeless US born children and their immigrant mothers, who are fleeing domestic violence, while acquiring legal status to avoid returning to their abusers. NCCF annually houses 12 children and their mothers in undisclosed locations within the beautiful residential communities of Montgomery County, Maryland. Through the support of NCCF staff and volunteers, the program model offers mothers the opportunity to live cooperatively together and to build longstanding positive relationships with other mothers, who become a circle of support to each other. The mothers often care for each other's children, share recipes, and encourage their children to develop friendships with each other. Volunteers provide meals, access to community outings, tutoring, birthday presents, holiday parties, and translation and legal services to support these families as they work towards self-sufficiency. Participants are offered up to 24 months of communal housing, case management, linkages to legal services, immigration resources, supportive services, six months of aftercare services, including monthly contact with Betty's House staff if needed, continued access to Dr. C's Boutique, and linkages to community resources as needed.

Greentree Shelter (GTS)	Emergency Shelter; Housing	Homeless; Families	National Center for Children and Families	(301) 365-4480, (301) 365-4480, (301) 365-4480	6301 Greentree Road, Bethesda, MD 20817, US	The Greentree Shelter (GTS) is the largest emergency family shelter in Maryland's Montgomery County. GTS receives children and their parents facing sudden homelessness. Serving county residents since 1983, GTS annually provides 115 children and their parents the support needed to overcome homelessness with short-term stable housing, food, and the support systems necessary to regain their footing and rebuild their lives. To combat the long-lasting social and psychological impacts of homelessness on children, and NCCF utilizes a child-centered approach. GTS provides wraparound support through community partnerships and collaborations with over 300 volunteers annually to ensure families are enriched by opportunities to achieve their goals. During times of uncertainty, children are able to experience the joys of childhood through activities provided by volunteers. Our volunteers facilitate experiences such as pizza and movie nights, birthday parties, bowling nights. GTS also offers an onsite playground built by a group of dedicated volunteers. Moreover, GTS is the only shelter for homeless families in Montgomery County with an on-site structured childcare center and therapeutic child access capability. Families transition out of GTS with stable housing, enhanced self-esteem, improved and varied life skills, and healthier relationships, all of which help them to avoid becoming homeless again. Support services include counseling, parent education, life skills training, after-school tutoring, substance abuse education and prevention, GED classes, computer training, and employment assistance.
--------------------------------	-----------------------------------	---------------------------	--	---	--	--

Housing and Shelter Programs	Emergency Shelter; Safe Housing; Emergency; Help Escape Violence; Short-Term Housing; Residential Housing; Housing; Long-Term Housing; Help Find Housing; Temporary Shelter; Weather Relief	Homeless; Housing Status	Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Washington			Catholic Charities offers many different housing programs designed to work with families and adults who are experiencing homelessness and/or trying to recover from substance abuse or mental health challenges. Some of these programs are ready to help you today. Other programs require a referral from a social worker or a government agency because they are more specialized in their services. Low-Barrier Shelters: These are shelters open to any single adult every single night of the year. You can simply show up at 7 pm and go through intake. We will provide you with a bed, a hot meal, a place to shower and use the restroom, and access to a case manager. Men's Shelters in Northeast DC Adam's Place New York Avenue Men's Shelter in Southeast DC 801 East Women's Shelter in Northeast DC Harriet Tubman Women's Shelter in Northwest DC Bakhita Women's Shelter Women's Shelter in Southern Maryland Angel's Watch Other Forms of Housing If you are seeking placement into rapid-rehousing, transitional housing programs, permanent supportive housing or single room occupancy (SRO),
-------------------------------------	--	-------------------------------------	--	--	--	---

Catholic Charities offers many programs geared toward helping in a more focused and long-term environment. Information on these programs, and how you can apply, are below.

Permanent Supportive Housing in Washington, DC and Maryland

We offer two forms of permanent supportive housing: scattered site (located in apartments throughout the city) and site-based (located in a single building).

Scattered Site:

Fortitude DC Program

Chronic Homeless Initiative-5 (CHI-5) Program

Site-based:

Mt. Carmel House

Mulumba House

Fortitude MD (Southern Maryland)

St. Sebastian Townhouses (Southern Maryland)

Single Room Occupancy (SRO) in Washington, DC

We offer three programs where clients have 24/7 access to a room in a small building. SRO is a great option for someone who is close to being able to afford to live independently, and also stable after dealing with the root causes of homelessness.

McKenna House

8th Street

Rock Creek Church House

Rapid Rehousing in Washington, DC

In partnership with DC government, Catholic Charities is a key part of helping move families out of shelters or living on the streets and into a short-term housing solution with case management support.

Family Rehabilitation Stabilization Program (FRSP)

DC NEXT! Community Resource Directory

taxonomy group: Emergency Shelter

Muriel House	Emergency Shelter; Short-Term Housing; Housing	Pregnant; Mothers with Young Children; Age Group; Health Conditions; Role; Homeless; Teens (13-19); Housing Status; Near Homeless	Healthy Babies Project			Muriel House is a transitional home in southeast D.C. It provides short-term crisis housing for homeless or transient pregnant and parenting youth as they work towards the goals of healthy birth outcomes and independent living or reunification with their families.
New Beginning Temporary Shelter	Emergency Shelter; Housing	Homeless; Families	National Center for Children and Families			The NEW BEGINNING TEMPORARY FAMILY SHELTER provides emergency apartment-style housing and comprehensive supportive services, annually, to over 200 homeless children and their families in the heart of DC's Columbia Heights neighborhood. Services include intensive case management and employment support, counseling, parent education, life skills and ABE/GED instruction, housing searches, and employment. Families stabilize, gain self-sufficiency, and obtain stable, permanent housing in the community. The New Beginning Temporary Family Shelter program has over 25 dedicated volunteers who provide tutoring, throw birthday parties, host holiday parties, and sponsor trips and other recreational activities.

The Kennedy Short Term Family Housing	Emergency Shelter; Housing	Homeless; Families	National Center for Children and Families			THE KENNEDY SHORT TERM FAMILY HOUSING (STFH) is the first model homeless program of its kind to be established in the District of Columbia. It provides emergency and temporary housing as well as comprehensive supportive services to over 450 homeless children and their families in DC's Ward 4 each year. Services include intensive case management and employment support, counseling, parent education, life skills and ABE/GED instruction, housing searches, and employment. Referred by the DC Department of Human Services (DHS), residents are given the opportunity to get back on their feet after an economic crisis, gain self-sufficiency, and obtain stable, permanent housing in the community. Over 65 volunteers provide children and their families with learning and recreational activities, holiday parties, and a host of additional essential services.
The Sterling Short Term Family Housing	Emergency Shelter; Housing	Homeless; Families	National Center for Children and Families			THE STERLING SHORT TERM FAMILY HOUSING (STFH) provides emergency, temporary, housing and comprehensive supportive services to over 405 homeless children and their families in DC's Ward 5 each year. Services include intensive case management and employment support, counseling, parent education, life skills and ABE/GED instruction, housing searches, and employment. Referred by the DC Department of Human Services (DHS), residents are given the opportunity to get back on their feet after an economic crisis, gain self-sufficiency and obtain stable, permanent housing in the community. Over 100 volunteers provide children and their families with learning and recreational activities, holiday parties, and a host of additional essential services.